> Had a bad experience last night me and my coworkers and it was a older Mexican guy that was very rude to us and he was putting his hands in my face very unacceptable

> This place has 5 stars on Google which is STUNNING and means my experience must the exception. We will never go here again. Y'all enjoy. First, their online reservation app works only if you have 5 people or less. When you call, an AI robocall answers. It offered to connect me to a human but all it did was send me to a voice mailbox that was FULL. No way to reach anyone to confirm reservation for 7 for a birthday. The workaround was to use their reservation app for 5 and add a note that we were really a party of 7. This place is absolutely not worth $23 to park for 2 hours on a Sunday. YES, there's other parking, FREE parking, but that was what we found nearest the place. We weren't going to drive around a congested area to find another spot. That's on us but it is still a negative. We ordered the $21 sharable giant chicken quesadilla. We asked for grilled chicken not shredded. It was not in the menu and the server never mentioned it was ALL dark meat which we don't eat. In fact, when I asked, she told us white meat wasn't even an option! SERIOUSLY?! We've eaten Mexican food for DECADES. I couldn't have been more surprised at no white meat. Just freaking GROSS. But, I know dark meat is CHEAPER so Rreal Tacos makes more by selling just dark meat chicken. We would've paid an upcharge for white meat! We gave away the quesadilla to others at our table so we wouldn't waste it. The place is incredibly noisy and crowded. It is tight in there. Maybe that's a vibe but not for our group. It was super fun sitting at our lower table with our heads at butt level for the 2 people at the pub height table adjacent to ours! (eye roll) Our server was nice but never once offered to refill our water. She didn't send anyone over to do it either. We told her most of us had never been there before but she still didn't bother to mention the QR code on the table so you can scan and self-pay your check while they automatically add service fees (for WHAT service?!) and auto-add a tip for a group our size and a "SUNDAY PLATFORM FEE." WTH is that? Such a great use of our time waiting for checks that never came. All she had to do was MENTION the QR code process. The cherry on top was the fact that they CHARGED for the birthday dessert! They didn't tell us. We didn't ORDER anything specific. They chose the dessert and charged us for it. Maybe places don't do a bday freebie anymore? Fine, just let us know beforehand. Knowing in advance we were new there, knowing in advance we were there for a birthday (confirmed with the server), only 2 employees came out for the birthday greeting, served a dessert we didn't order, and slapped it on the bill. (You won't see that on the receipt I uploaded as another member of our party paid it.) This place is the ANTI-Mexican restaurant. If you're looking for a traditional experience that won't charge you for chips and salsa or a simple birthday treat, RUN, run fast and far away from Rreal Tacos. If you want to be nickeled and dimed for every single thing by a loud, crowded restaurant too busy to care if you really like it, Rreal Tacos Decatur is waiting for you!

I’ve had really positive experiences dining in here since it opened, so I was shocked at the service I got at takeout tonight. I’ll just assume they thought I was an Uber delivery driver since I ordered through them, but that doesn’t excuse being outright nasty to a customer. Again, food was still great and everyone was fantastic for dine-in, just don’t pick up your own food through Uber!

I've been to Rreal Tacos before and didn't much enjoy it because of the food. I ended up at another one, thinking that it would maybe be better than the other location. Somehow it got worse. The ambiance was great from the initial walk in, and turns out they had just opened at this location. The food however.... TLDR: dont go. :(

This was the worst experience. No one absolutely no one knew what Gluten Free was but yet it’s on your menu. The entire staff should be familiar with food allergies for starters. After waiting at the table for 15 mins the waitress comes back and says oh we don’t have any sprite. How bro 🙄. So we order a different drink. Over 35 mins and we are still sitting waiting on some premade tacos. The waiter never checks and to give status. Then they bring the freakin BIRRIA tacos without the sauce you dip it in. And where is the waiter. And where is the manager when you need one?? Worst experience for this to be our first time.

(Translated by Google) Honestly, I don't even know where to begin. This has been one of the worst experiences I've had at Real Taco restaurants. I've eaten at almost all of them, and this one left a lot to be desired. I understand the bartender was busy and the flow of customers was intense, but honestly, she was very rude. You can see my reviews, and I always give 5 stars unless the service is truly awful. The food was very good, but the bartender and the woman who assigns tables urgently need customer service training. I'm not complaining about the wait time because I understand they were very busy—I work in a restaurant too—but honestly, today the customer service was abysmal. (Original) Sinceramente no sé ni por dónde empezar, a sido de las peores experiencias en restaurantes de rreal taco, he comido en casi todos y esto da demasiado que desear, la chica de la barra entiendo que estén ocupados y el flujo de gente estaba intenso pero sinceramente fue muy grosera, pueden ver mi reviews y siempre doy 5 estrellas al menos que de verdad haya sido muy pesado el servicio, la comida muy buena pero la chica de la barra y la chica que asigna las mesas deberían tener con urgencia una capacitación sobre atención al cliente… no me quejo por el tiempo que esperamos porque comprendo que estaban muy full ps trabajo en un restaurante también, pero de verdad hoy la atención al público fue -0000000

One of the bartenders in there is absolute 🗑️ He missed out on good business and good tips. Everytime I requested something, his excuse was “Sandy Springs”, LOL. He was so lazy that he didn’t even want to get my food in a to-go container. Instead of doing his job accordingly, he was socialising and dodging his responsibilities. For every request, “Sandy Springs is strict and does not allow that.” What’s funny is, another staff member gave me a to-go container and treated me like an actual guest LOL. People like this shouldn’t be in the service industry, this is a bad look for RREAL Tacos because this was RREAL trash! 🗑️

I am writing this while being ignored by servers one after another. It’s disheartening that after waiting for 28 minutes, I finally get some service. I even found a server to ask for help, only to be told that someone would come to me. To add additional context, I counted 5 tables total, in and out, and 10 different servers. This location has been the worst out of all the ones I’ve visited. Real Taco, please do better.

Any restaurant that requires an ID for ca person who is 57 years old and without the ID refuses service is a no go for me. Rreal Tacos requires ID or no alcohol. This is stupidity.

We were disappointed/underwhelmed with the food. There wasn’t anything special worth coming back to pay $$$ for and there’s unfortunately too many other Mexican restaurants around the area. I think the quality of meat, the way they prep the meat, and season the meat needs refining.

The drinks were disappointing, and the food was served cold. I had to ask for the food to be reheated. The waitress, Kayleen, provided poor customer service, seeming indifferent since gratuity was already added to the check. She even ignored the table when we had questions. I will not be returning to this location. What a waste of time and money.
